Report Summary – Surprise?

Based on the methods with which we analyzed Community First Bank Chicago, its failure was not a surprise.

Here are the indications that Community First Bank Chicago should fail:

- 1) Community First Bank Chicago experienced over 8% losses of its assets in the last six quarters before it failed. This added much pressure to its already low Asset/Liability ratio.
- 2) While its weighted delinquent asset ratio was relatively good in the past, it rose to almost 3% the quarter before it failed.
- 3) The bank's asset to liability ratio dropped to 102.55% the quarter before it failed.
- 4) Community First Bank Chicago had a bankability composite score of 4.52 the quarter before it failed, indicating the bank's very poor overall financial health and likelihood to fail.
